

STATE MATTERS.

Our friends throughout the State will place us under obligations if they will furnish us with any items of news that may transpire in their respective sections, as we desire to make this department specially full.

The Dispatch insists on better lights for Charlotte.

Rest has attacked the wheat in Pasquotank county.

Wayne county Democratic Convention convenes to-morrow.

ELIAS CARL, Esq., of Greene county, died at his residence a few days since.

A small lot of tobacco was sold at Durham last week at $2.50 per pound.

CHARLESTON, Northampton county, was visited by hail on Tuesday afternoon.

Two colored men were sent to the New Hanover county Work House on Wednesday.

A semi-weekly package express line has been established from Kinston to Snow Hill and Hookerton.

The Conservatives of Pasquotank county will nominate county officers on the 15th inst.

The rector of St. Luke's church, Salisbury, Rev. J. H. Tillinghast, has accepted a call to South Carolina.

An old Confederate soldier in Greene county has both eyes out, but is very industrious, and a good shingle getter.

CLEMENT PHILLIPS, of Anson county, died on the 2nd inst., of poison supposed to have been administered by a woman.

REV. FRANK J. MURDOCK, of Asheville, was called to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. J. H. Tillinghast, of St. Paul's Church, Salisbury.

W. H. TREZEVANT, Esq., was arrested in Charlotte on Tuesday, by a Deputy Marshal and carried to Columbia, South Carolina, on the charge of murder and conspiracy preferred by negroes.

The State Agent of the American Bible Society, addressed a meeting in the court house at Nashville, on Tuesday evening, June 4th. The Nashville county society was organized in 1869. In that year it received a donation of $14 worth of books from the American Bible Society. These books have all been sold or given away except three Bibles. This is the only supply of Bibles ever brought to the county.

At this meeting the Society was re-organized and the following officers chosen: Rev. Jeremiah Johnson, President. W. T. Griffin, Cor. Secretary. Maj. J. P. Jenkins, Treasurer. Van Buren Batchelor, Depositary. Executive Committee, Capt. A. W. Bridges, W. J. B. Harper and Dr. J. B. Earl.

The Agent made a donation of $25 worth of books for gratuitous distribution, especially among the freedmen.

THE LLOYD POISONING CASE.—Professor Toney and Dr. Tiffany arrived here last night with the analysis of the stomach of little Annie Lloyd. Traces of arsenic were found in her stomach, and about a half of a grain in the liver. This would indicate an original dose quite sufficient to produce death. They talk about disinterring Mr. Lloyd's body, but that certainly he was too much decomposed to admit of an analysis.

Mrs. Lloyd is in jail, and will no doubt be indicted for murder at June court (the 10th proximo). A special grand jury of ten (under the new law of 1872, page 44), has been summoned to consider this and other cases.

Mrs. Lloyd has a good many friends in this community, who visit her and give her sewing to do. She seems to be cheerful and not at all apprehensive about her trial, which I presume will not be had until the Circuit Court, which sits the third Monday in October next.—Leoburg (Va.) Correspondence 20th ult., to Fredericksburg Herald.

Lieutenant Henry O. Porter, son of the late Commodore David Porter, who died at Bare Hills, Baltimore county, Md., at the country residence of Admiral Porter, on the 22nd ultimo, in the forty seventh year of his age, was first lieutenant of the United States steamer Hatteras when that vessel was sunk by the Alabama, commanded by Captain Semmes, and stood by his guns until the ship went down. As soon as he regained his liberty he returned to active duty in the navy, and served on board the Susquehanna, Commodore Gordon, in the two battles of Fort Fisher, where he displayed his usual bravery.

SENATOR SCHURZ.—Mr. Schurz, in concluding his speech in the Senate, in denunciation of the arbitrary character of the Administration, said: "He rejoiced to see a spirit sweeping over the land which aimed to depose this autocratic power, and he earnestly hoped for the union of all forces that ought to work together to give that redempting spirit the victory which it must win if free institutions were to last."

The residence, barn and out-buildings of Fred. Douglas, at Rochester, N. Y., were burned on Sunday night, the fire originating in the barn. Only the library and $100 worth of furniture were saved.

The British ship, John Temperly, Capt. Wright, from Baltimore for London, which left the capes of Virginia on the 1st of March, had not, at last accounts, reached her destination, and it is feared that she has foundered.

The labor strikes throughout the country are beginning to be felt in Washington, as many of the laborers in all branches of industry are clamoring for advanced rates and reduced hours.

Dr. J. L. Green, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences, in Richmond, Va., has been sent to the grand jury of the Hastings Court, and bail allowed in the sum of $1,500.

At a meeting of the citizens of Surry county, Va., a few days since, Greeley and Brown were endorsed.

The project is discussed of erecting a Masonic Temple in Petersburg, Va.

The Feeling in regard to the Washington Treaty.

There is nothing absolutely new in the position of affairs concerning the Treaty. The note of Lord Granville, of Saturday last, printed in these despatches yesterday, is to night the topic of conversation at official circles and it has awakened the deepest indignation, on the part of the Senators especially. The decided terms in which the British Foreign Secretary holds that by the Senate's amendment to the English supplementary article, the bad faith and willful misconduct imputed by the United States to the former British Ministry are brought within the scope of pecuniary compensation, are quoted as evidence of the bad faith of Granville and his colleagues in professing not to understand the modified article at all, while at the same time they fasten a construction upon it that goes beyond its fair and honest meaning.

It is held here to be an insult to this country to suggest, as Lord Granville does, that while the British government understands it to be the view of this government that such cases are not fit subject of pecuniary compensation, that government is fearful that we shall endeavor, nevertheless, to exact pecuniary compensation with respect to the allegation that Mr. Fish believes the Senate article to be capable of improvement, and has so informed Minister Thornton. The aroused Senators are content to let the Secretary himself dispose of it in the light of the facts that he was constantly familiar with during the action of the committee and the Senate upon the article and gave it his warm approval when proposed and adopted.

As for Granville's own article, a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, to whose charge it was committed, grimly remarked to-night that but for the confidential nature of the subject it would have been in all probability referred to a committee of school-masters for a short revision before the other amendments were made that were not simply verbal. The assumption of the British Cabinet that this government does not believe there is such a difference between the two countries concerning the substance of the matter as to prevent an agreement on the language in which to express it, if time be allowed, is considered to mean nothing more than an appeal for further time in which to move the American government from the position it has taken, to that which the English government desires it to occupy, for nothing, it is argued, can be clearer than the language and intent of the Senate's article, and there is no misunderstanding here upon the point that we are not to press our claims for indirect losses under that article.

Lord Granville, it is believed, has distinctly intimated to sign a treaty based upon that article, for the noble reason that it not only fails to coincide with their own views, but is entirely foreign to our own declared principles. This is understood to mean nothing less than a further change of philosophy in the proposed treaty, with the express object of debarring the United States from every imagined chance of pressing claims at Geneva, which they do not desire to press, and have no intention of pressing, and is but the diplomatic way of intimating that we are not to be trusted to the extent of a single word in the new treaty which would admit of any other than the most rigid construction. It is with the view of winning verbal concessions from our government in respect of the new article, that Lord Granville inferentially demands a postponement of the arbitration, and though the hollowness of the reasons advanced for the postponement are fully appreciated, these reasons have such a colorable foundation in the hurry and possible imperfections of cypher despatches by telegraph, that our government cannot well decline the postponement, and thus, escape the importunities of the British Cabinet for that modification of the article which cannot be granted.

Hence, it may be stated, upon grounds of authority, that the contemplated business of arbitration will not proceed on the 15th of June, as provided in the original treaty, but that the arbitration will be adjourned to a subsequent date. But this postponement of the immediate proceedings is in no manner likely to effect the final result, there being no room to doubt that England will never resume the arbitration without vital changes in the supplemental treaty, and it being equally certain that the President will never propose, nor the Senate agree to, any modification whatever.—Washington Letter of the 3d to the N. Y. Herald.

A Fatal Case of Hydrophobia. A distressing case of hydrophobia resulted fatally to a German boy of 8 years, at eight o'clock this morning. The parents of the unfortunate child, who resided at the corner of Roppel and Maple streets, and the name of the victim is Charles Smith. About eight or nine weeks ago, the child, while going his round as a carrier-boy for the Volksblatt, was attacked by a dog belonging to one Charles Cimmar, on Prospect street, and bitten in the leg and lip. The wounds were dressed and little heed was paid to the circumstances, the lad pursuing his usual avocation. On Wednesday last, he complained of feeling bad, and was attended by Dr. Kaser, who knew nothing of his having been bitten. The symptoms baffled him, and yesterday Dr. Mullholld was called in as associate, when cold water was taken into the sick chamber, the sight of which at once threw the child into convulsions and determined the nature of the disease.

Last night, he began frothing at the mouth, and exhibited a desire to snap at his attendants. Later in the night, he became furious, and had to be fastened to the bed, the clothes of which were ripped into shreds, and his tortures are described as agonizing. After suffering untold agony, death came to his relief as above stated. Coroner Gnuw was summoned and viewed the body, but deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The dog is yet alive, and has exhibited no signs of madness, but he will be summarily dispatched.—Detroit Union, May 21.

At the examination of the senior class of Columbian Law College every member passed, and Mr. Kennedy highly complimented the class, stating that it was the first time in a number of years that no candidate had been rejected.

M. W. Wade, of the Evening News, Richmond, Va., had his leg badly hurt by a fall on Tuesday morning.

FOR SALE. WARRENTON HOTEL FOR SALE.

In consequence of old age and infirm health for the last seventeen years, and not being able to attend to the duties of a hotel I have resolved to sell the above property. It is located in the town of Warrenton, Warren county, N. C. The hotel contains some thirty rooms, and all necessary out-houses, and can accommodate from 50 to 75 guests comfortably. It is the only public house in the village. Warrenton is celebrated for its healthfulness, good society and schools. There are four churches of different denominations in the village, and it has been for many years a favorite resort of persons seeking health in summer and fall. This property will be sold lower than any property of the kind ever offered to the public. I deem it useless to give a further description of the property as any person desiring to purchase, can come and examine the premises. I am determined to sell.

The hotel will continue open for the reception of the traveling public, and I invite all health seekers in the summer, to call upon me. My terms will be moderate. MRS. M. M. R. BROWNLOW, ap 20-1m. Petersburg "Index" copy one month and send bill to subscriber.

SPECIAL FEATURES AND ADVANTAGES.

1st. No restriction on Residence or Travel.

2d. No extra charge on lives of Females.

3d. Policies incontestable after Five Years.

4th. The rates of Interest on the Funds of the Company are higher than those on the Funds of Companies located elsewhere, thus insuring larger Dividends to Policy Holders.

5th. The Directors and Officers of the Company are prominent NORTH CAROLINIANS, who are known to be men of INTEGRITY and WORTH.

6th. The Company is established on a solid and permanent basis, steps having been taken to increase the Capital Stock to $500,000.

7th. ALL THE FUNDS OF THE COMPANY ARE INVESTED IN THE STATE AND CIRCULATED AMONG OUR OWN PEOPLE. This fact should commend the Company, above all others, to North Carolinians. It is well known that hundreds of thousands of Dollars in Life Insurance are annually sent North to enrich Northern Capitalists, thus continually draining our people of immense amounts which should be kept at home. On this ground the Funds of this Company confidently appeal to every son of North Carolina, and ask their support for this Home, North Carolina, which offers so substantially all the advantages of foreign companies, helps to build up Home Industries.
